

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILING YOUR UNCONTESTED CHANGE OF CUSTODY

Free to download; $11.00 for a paper copy

A change of custody is allowed when the parent(s) can prove that there are substantial changes affecting the welfare and best interests of the child(ren). Parents can enter into an agreement regarding custody, subject to the court's approval. The parental agreement will be effective unless the judge decides that the proposed change is not in the best interests of the child(ren). The parents' agreement can be made a final order of modification by the trial court at any time after the agreement has been submitted to the court.

An uncontested change of custody action is one in which the parties work out an agreement regarding issues such as child custody, visitation, and child support. The parties do not ask the judge to settle arguments between them, but rather work things out by themselves. In an uncontested change of custody, the judge is only asked to approve the decisions which you have made together with your spouse.

YOU MAY NEED AN ATTORNEY IF:

- The case becomes contested and your spouse has a lawyer.
- You cannot find your spouse to serve him or her with your papers.
- You might lose custody of your children.
- You think you will have difficulty getting information and documents from your spouse regarding income, retirement funds, etc.

Even if it is a friendly action, you should talk to a lawyer before you sign any settlement papers or file anything in court.

If you want to change custody only in order to allow the child(ren) to attend a different school, a Judge is extremely unlikely to find a material change in circumstances which makes a change of custody in the child's best interests.

DETAILED INSTRUCTIONS:

STEP 1: Complete the Filing Information and Final Disposition Forms

These forms are required by Georgia Law, at O.C.G.A. § 9-11-133. They help the Clerk of Court keep statistical information about the number and types of cases decided in our local courts. The clerks use this information to prepare case management reports for the Chief Judge of each circuit and for the Chief Justice of the Georgia Supreme Court. In short, having this information helps us to run the court system more efficiently for you.

The Filing Information form

- a. In the top line, fill in the county where you are filing and the date filed.
- b. In the second line, fill in the names of the Plaintiff and Defendant.
- c. Where it says “Plaintiff/Petitioner’s Attorney,” check the box which says Pro Se. This indicates that you are representing yourself without an attorney.
- d. In the left-hand box, check off what kind of case this is. Since this is a custody modification action, you will check “ Modification—Custody and/or Visitation.” If you are also changing the amount of child support, you will also check “Modification—Child Support.”
- e. In the right hand box, indicate whether or not you are asking for relief from family violence by checking yes or no in the appropriate boxes.

The Final Disposition form

The purpose of this form is to tell how your case ends. Since your case is far from over, you should NOT fill in the information in the three big boxes at the bottom of the page. At this point, we do not know how the case will end.

- a. In the top line, fill in only the county where you are filing. We do not yet know the date disposed, since you have not yet received a final order from the judge.
- b. Leave the second line, “Docket #,” blank. The clerk will assign this number.
- c. Write your name where it says “Reporting party.”
- d. Write down the full names of the Plaintiff and Defendant.
- e. Where it says Plaintiff/Petitioner’s Attorney, you will check the box which says Pro Se. This shows that you are representing yourself. Since you are not a licensed attorney, you do not have a Bar #, so leave those blanks empty.

STEP 1: Complete the Complaint for Change of Custody.

Fill in your full name as the Plaintiff and the Defendant’s full name. Do not fill in where it says Civil Action File No. The clerk will assign a number to your case when you file your complaint. Then insert your name and the Defendant’s names in the space provided just before paragraph one (1).

Paragraph 1: Jurisdiction and Venue

Paragraph 4: Proposed New Custody Arrangement

Check the box beside paragraph four. In this paragraph, state how you want custody to be arranged. There are two types of custody: legal custody and physical custody. There are three ways to divide up custody:

1. Sole legal and physical custody. In this arrangement, one parent assumes the decision-making responsibility, and the children spend most of their time with that parent.
2. Shared legal custody and sole physical custody. Parents share decision-making authority, but the children spend most of their time with only one parent. There is often a provision that in the event of a disagreement about a decision, one parent will be the "tie-breaker."

You should make two copies of all of your documents. Give the clerk your original and the two copies. The clerk will assign a number to your case and will write in the number on your documents. The other copy will be given to your spouse.
